

W. P. WALTON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress,

JAMES B. MCCREARY.

The nomination of Mr. O. H. Waddle for Congress by the Barbourville convention was a very wise act. Mr. Waddle is ambitious, eloquent and popular, and can come about as near carrying the 11th as any democrat in it. In his own county of Pulaski he can cut the large republican majority down to a mere fraction, even if he does not succeed in carrying it. The republicans there are all torn up into factions, while the democrats are solid and anxious to demonstrate their strength. We heard a prominent republican from the 11th say that Mr. Waddle would carry every county west of Pulaski except Clinton, and that he had enough friends and kinsfolk among the republicans in Pulaski to almost insure him the county. We take it for granted that Mr. Waddle will accept the nomination and enter into the canvass in earnest. He is a fine speaker, with the courage to give full utterance to the faith that is in him and the ability to expound the doctrines of his party.

A New York fraud advertised for pretty and shapely girls to take part in a big spectacular. Fifty or 60 applied and after carefully measuring their well-made limbs, engaged them, requiring from $1 to $20 apiece as an earnest of good faith, which was to be refunded after the first performance. Afterwards the girls began to smell a mouse and swearing out a warrant had the fellow arrested and lodged in jail. He deserves a penitentiary sentence for his hogishness. To be able to measure 50 pairs of pretty limbs ought to have been sufficient remuneration without making the pretty creatures pay him for the fun.

HON. ASHER G. CARUTH has been declared the democratic nominee for Congress in the Louisville district, his opponent refusing to submit to the action of the democratic party. There is likely, therefore, to be a three-cornered fight, as Headley will probably run as an independent and the republicans having already nominated St. John Boyle on a platform favoring Reed's methods, the tariff infamy and the iniquitous Force bill. There are enough democrats, however, to down them both and it is almost certain that Caruth will succeed himself by an increased majority.

JUDGE TONEY, of Louisville, is getting a little too utterly too too toney for his pantaloons. The other day he ordered the sheriff to stop workmen on a building some distance from the court-house because their noise disturbed him. This is a pretty high-handed step and if the workmen had proceeded with their business instead of stopping, it could have been easily demonstrated that Mr. Toney was transgressing his authority. The Commercial very truly says: "Courts are not established to hinder the business of the people, but to enforce and protect their rights in carrying on their business."

The Covington Commonwealth asks to correct the statement that a republican was elected mayor of its city and that the Australian system of voting is a humbug. It says: "J. T. Thomas was not elected mayor of Covington. Defective returns, some of them unsigned in precincts giving the democratic candidate a majority, give Thomas a majority, but the ballots which will be counted do not. As to the Australian system, it did work well. The election was quiet; there was no disorder; there wasn't a repeater, nor an illegal voter and the ward politician was lost."

The committees appointed by the bond-holders and the legislature to settle the Virginia State debt question, have agreed to have their differences adjusted by an arbitration committee to be composed of Grover Cleveland, Thomas F. Bayard and three other distinguished men. The debt amounts to a little over $50,000,000 and it is predicted that the terms of settlement will not differ materially from the Biddleberger plan. It is sincerely to be hoped that the question will be amicably settled and eliminated from the politics of the State.

SAMUEL F. MILLER, of the U. S. Supreme Court, was stricken with paralysis Friday night. His entire left side is affected and there are no hopes for his recovery. Judge Miller is a Kentuckian and said to be one of the brainiest and best men on the bench of our highest tribunal. The judge started life as a doctor, but took Gov. Crittenden's advice to study law and finally reached the position which the governor had predicted for him.

THEODORE HALLAM carried Kenton over Judge O'Hara in a primary election Saturday and the chances are good for his nomination for Congress to succeed Mr. Dickerson, who is filling Mr. Carlisle's unexpired term. It is to be hoped that he will be. He is one of the brainiest men in the district.

The authorities have decided that the Cincinnati Enquirer containing a notice that it would give certain prizes to those who should most nearly estimate the number of votes to be cast by the republican and democratic parties for their respective candidates for Secretary of State, is unamiable under the anti-libel law lately passed by Congress and the paper has accordingly withdrawn it. This seems to be carrying the thing to a foolish extreme and will likely result in the repeal of the law, which proposes to exercise so much censorship over the public press.

The pension department has decided that a Missouri artillery man, who got his skull cracked in a fight with a comrade during the war, and a widow whose husband was killed by the cars through his own carelessness, are entitled to pensions. Of course they are. There is no use of stalling points this way. Pension them and give us a grand army of leaders. To this completion will it come at last.
